Dear Sir/Madam

Re: Site allocation EM08a - The Horsefield. Emsworth

I am writing to object to the allocation for development of about 90 houses on the land in Emsworth known as the Horsefield.

This is inconsistent with the area's designation as a National Landscape, the purpose of which is to conserve and enhance its natural beauty.

The site is also a wildlife corridor and has been an important part of Emsworth's visual character. I am told that it is, in addition, a Site of Importance for Nature Conservation which should be protected by local planners, not earmarked for development.

[redacted] and have noted how busy the traffic on Havant Road has become. There is also considerable strain on local services such as drainage and sewage. A further 90 houses on this site will only exacerbate these problems.

I am opposed in principle to this development and have seen no evidence that there are exceptional circumstances which justify the allocation of this protected site for housing. I urge you to reject its allocation as housing land and protect it from future development.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,
Jonathan Smith, [redacted]
