Pride in Place boundary

This map displays the Wecock neighborhood, with a blue line delineating the 'Pride in Place' boundary. The boundary encompasses a large residential area characterized by grey-toned building footprints and a network of streets. Several green areas, likely parks or undeveloped land, are scattered throughout the neighborhood. A prominent orange line, possibly a major road or transit route, runs diagonally across the right side of the map. The map is presented in a light grey, semi-transparent style, allowing the underlying street grid and land use to be visible.
